SOUTH ASIAN CAPITAL MARKET CONFERENCE

APRIL 22 - 25, 2010
HOTEL MARITIM
MAURITIUS

Dear Colleague,

It gives us great pleasure in inviting you to the South Asian Capital Market Conference 2010 organized by the South Asian Federation of Exchanges (SAFE) on April 22-25 in Mauritius.

The Annual General Meeting of SAFE and the South Asian Capital Market Conference 2010 are hosted by MCX Stock Exchange, India, and Global Board of Trade, Mauritius.

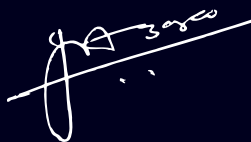

This year, the South Asian Federation of Exchanges celebrates the completion of a decade of functioning and we are making every endeavour to make this Conference a memorable event.

The South Asia region is in the midst of rapid economic growth and development of financial markets. South Asia can boast of an extensive market infrastructure in which various asset classes operate, in addition to the robust presence of banking, insurance, asset management and financial services industry.

The South Asian Capital Market Conference provides a unique opportunity to share perspectives and exchange ideas that are meaningful to business growth and expansion. The Conference, which we expect to be attended by a large number of professionals from the region and outside, will have presentations and addresses from leading experts in the realm of financial policy, regulation and market practice with global finance perspectives.

We have great pleasure in sending you this invitation in advance with a request to block the dates in your calendar and eventually attend this event in Mauritius. The details of the Conference and related events are there in the enclosed brochure. In addition to your participation, we invite participation from senior professionals in your esteemed institution to gain from this major annual event in the South Asia region. Financial Technologies Knowledge Management Company (FTKMC), which is the Secretariat for the Conference, will provide all help and assistance in this regard.

We look forward to see you in Mauritius.
